Featured Speaker:

Dr. Louise Dumas RN, MSN, PhD

Louise is honorary professor-researcher, associated with the Department of Nursing sciences, at the Université du Québec en Outaouais (Western Quebec).

She has a master's degree in Nursing Sciences from the University of Alabama in Birmingham, a doctoral degree in Interdisciplinary Education from the Université du Québec à Montréal, and a post-doctoral degree in Reproductive and Perinatal Medical Sciences from the Karolinska Institutet in Stockholm, Sweden.

Most of her research and teaching has focused on perinatal practices, breastfeeding, patient education, and nursing research.

As guest researcher at the Karolinska Institutet from 2004 until 2014, she has been part of a Russian-Swedish-Canadian team studying Russian swaddling, skin-to-skin, and mother-infant separation at birth.

She has published and presented extensively throughout the world. She also mentored 30 graduate students in Quebec, Ontario, and New-Brunswick.

Louise has received many awards and honours, 16 over her nursing career, the latest being the Merit award from the Quebec Order of Nurses, the highest distinction for a nurse within Quebec.

Louise is lead assessor for the WHO/UNICEF Baby-Friendly Hospital Initiatives. As such, she is an active member of the international planning committee for the 2016 WHO meeting for BFHI implementation in industrialized and developing countries, representing the Breastfeeding Committee for Canada.
